CORAM : HON'BLE MR.JUSTICE J.R.VORA

Date of decision: 11/05/2005

1. This Special Civil Application under Article 226 of the Constitution of India has been filed by the petitioner detenu Jenul Abedin @ Janiyo @ Janu Thuthiyo

S/o. Abduljabbar Ansari, challenging his detention in pursuance of the order passed against him by the Police Commissioner, Ahmedabad City, on 11th of February, 2005, in exercise of powers conferred upon him under Section 3(1) of the Gujarat Prevention of Anti Social Activities Act, 1985 (PASA Act for short). The petitioner is under detention as Bootlegger from 11th of February, 2005.

2. The grounds of detention as placed on record, reveal that the Detaining Authority took into consideration five crimes registered against the petitioner, for the breach of the provisions of Bombay Prohibition Act. Out of five crimes, crimes shown at serial nos.1, 3, 4 and 5 came to be registered before Bapunagar Police Station on 19th of October, 2004, on 25th of January, 2005, on 26th of January, 2005 and on 11th of February, 2005. The 5th crime shown at sr. no. 2 was registered before Prohibition Police Station , East Zone on 18th November, 2004. In each of these five cases it was alleged that the petitioner was found in possession of some quantity of prohibited country made liquor. The detaining authority thoroughly and exhaustively examined the investigation papers in all the five cases registered against the petitioner and came to the conclusion that the petitioner was dealing in storing, selling and transporting the prohibited liquor. The detaining authority came to the conclusion that the activities of the petitioner were of bootlegging activities, within the meaning of PASA Act. The detaining authority came to the conclusion that the activities of the petitioner were prejudicial to the maintenance of the public order and adversely affecting the public health. The detaining authority concluded that the bootlegging activities of the petitioner were required to be prevented forthwith. The detaining authority came to the conclusion that to prevent the bootlegging activities of the petitioner, there was no alternative, except to detain the petitioner under the PASA Act. The detaining authority, therefore, after taking into consideration other remedial measures available under the general law, passed an order of detention of the petitioner under the PASA Act, which is under challenged in this petition.

3. Heard Ms.Banna Dutta, learned Advocate for Mrs.Mishra learned Advocate on behalf of the petitioner and learned AGP Mr.I.M.Pandya for the respondents were heard at length.

4. Out of various grounds urged on behalf of the petitioner and opposed and controverted by learned AGP, it appears that this petition can be examined and disposed of on the sole issue that whether there was credible material placed before the detaining authority to come to the conclusion that by the activities of the petitioner the public order was disturbed and public health was adversely affected.

5. To arrive at the subjective satisfaction that bootlegging activities of the petitioner were prejudicial to the maintenance of public order and public health, the detaining authority must rely upon credible and cogent material indicating that the activities of the detenu directly or indirectly were causing or were likely to cause any harm, danger or alarm or feeling of insecurity among the general public or any section thereof or a grave or widespread danger to life, property or the public health. In this exercise, the detaining authority must draw a line between the cases falling under "breach of law and order" and breach of public order. The fall out, reach and impact of the activities of the petitioner determines whether potentiality of the activities alleged was capable of disturbing the public order. When reach and impact of the activities are so grave, as to affect larger section of society and when widespread danger to life, property or the public health is likely, the activities can be branded as activity affecting the public order. The other cases are cases falling within the scope of breach of law and order, and can be taken care of by the general law. Referring to the five cases under the Prohibition Act filed against the petitioner, and going through the investigating papers, it appears that those cases came to be filed against the petitioner because he was found in possession of some prohibited country liquor in breach of Prohibition Act. Those cases are pending and the petitioner shall be tried and may be punished as well, if found guilty, but it is clear that through the investigating papers, which is the basic material, on which the detaining authority has placed reliance and has formed opinion, do not disclose the impact of activities of the petitioner disturbing the larger section of the society. At the most, these cases may be considered to be breach of law, for which, as aforesaid, the petitioner will be dealt with according to law. Therefore, the act constituting criminal offences registered against the petitioner in dealing with country liquor, have no bearing at all on the question of maintenance of public order. In this view of the matter, the subjective satisfaction arrived at by the detaining authority based on the above material in respect of maintenance of public order is not legal, valid and in accordance with law. The order under challenge, therefore, is required to be quashed on this ground alone.

6. In the result, the petition is allowed. The order passed by the Police Commissioner, Ahmedabad City, on 11th February, 2005, against the petitioner in exercise of powers under Section 3(1) of the PASA Act is hereby quashed and set aside. The detenu JENUL ABEDIN JANIYO @ JANU THUTHIYO S/o. ABDULJABBAR ANSARI is hereby ordered to be set at liberty forthwith if he is not required to be detained in jail for any other purpose. Rule is made absolute. Direct service is permitted.
